

Freddie X. Hood, Treasurer, United Nation Builders

Brother Freddie X. Hood was born, Freddie James Hood, the son of Bryant and Mary Hood of Birmingham, Alabama, the fourth child of seven children.

He attended Roosevelt elementary and A.G. Gaston Jr. High in Alabama. He moved to Joliet, Illinois in 1968 where he completed High School and received his High School Diploma in general studies.

After High School he enlisted into the United States Army in 1973 and toured Germany, Greece, Korea, and several American states. While in the military, he pursued an education in computer programming.

While active duty in the Army, he married and started a family. In 1989 he decided to reside in San Antonio, Texas and discharged from the Army. He then started a career as a supervisor at Fort Sam Houston, Texas for over 25 years. He joined the Nation of Islam as a follower of the teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad in 1991.

He is now retired and has dedicated his life to his family, wife, 6 children and over 26 grandchildren and the teachings of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad.

Currently Brother Freddie serves as the Treasurer for the United Nation Builders, Inc.

A dark blue arrow pointing to the right, located at the bottom right corner of the page.